Instructions: Fill in the scores you received on the Entrepreneurial Traits Assessment below.

10

Determination

Determination is the strength to continue doing something even when it is very hard. High scores in this trait show that you deal well with stress and won't give up when things go wrong. Entrepreneurs known for their determination are: J.K. Rowling (writer of Harry Potter), Steve Jobs (co-founder of Apple), and Milton Hershey (founder Hershey Chocolate Company).

15

Independence

People who are independent know their own strengths and weaknesses and recognize when they need help. Having a willingness to set your own goals and make decisions for your future will help in every aspect of work or business ownership. Entrepreneurs with strong independence include: Benjamin Franklin (inventor), Phil Knight (co-founder Nike), and Steven Spielberg (movie producer).

3

Motivation

Motivation is defined as a willingness to do something and keep trying even if no one is encouraging you to do so. Motivation shows that you are willing to work hard, set goals, and strive to achieve whatever you want. A few entrepreneurs with strong motivation are: Oprah, Mark Zuckerberg (creator of Facebook), and Sam Walton (founder of Walmart).

3

Resourcefulness

Resourcefulness shows the ability to deal with difficult situations and challenges. At work you may encounter problems that you will need to resolve. People that are resourceful are willing to ask for help and find solutions to problems. Famous entrepreneurs who are resourceful include: Bill Gates (Microsoft founder), Richard Branson (founder Virgin Atlantic), and Jeff Bezos (founder of Amazon).

1

Vision

Vision is the ability to think about and plan for the future. This will help you explore your own creative ideas and generate solutions to problems. Without visionaries we would not have some of the most important inventions in our world. Some visionary entrepreneurs include: Thomas Edison (inventor of the light bulb and much more), Sergey Brin & Larry Page (co-founders of Google), and Walt Disney.

10

Accomplishment

Being recognized for your contributions and achievements in the workplace is important to you. As an entrepreneur, you should ask your customers for feedback on your work and strive to make them happy at all times.

11

Connection

You see work as a location where you can socialize with co-workers, make friendships, and help others in the community. As an entrepreneur you will need to regularly interact with your customers. You could find a co-working space or public place to do some of your work. You may want to sell your products at a fair or farmer's market so you can meet new people.

12

Creativity

Your work environment should allow you to express your creative talents, ideas, and imagination. Being an entrepreneur allows you to use your strengths and showcase your skills. Many creative people are successful as entrepreneurs.

13

Pace

The speed at which your work needs to be completed and the pressure of your productivity is a factor to consider. As an entrepreneur you will be able to work at your own pace, which may be preferable.

14

Predictability/Structure

It is important for you to work where you have consistent responsibilities. You prefer having tasks, priorities, and schedules that are clearly defined and similar day after day. Having a consistent work environment will help you to be successful. You will have to create your own predictable schedule as an entrepreneur.

15

Responsibility

You prefer to have a role at work where you are making decisions and influencing others. As an entrepreneur you will be the boss and will make most of the decisions for your business. This could be a great fit for you.

16

Setting

The surroundings and location of your workplace are important factors in your employment decision. Most entrepreneurs have the chance to create their own work environment. Working when and where you are the most comfortable makes self-employment a great option for you.
